

Tarragon Tagetes lucida

MEXICAN MINT MARIGOLD

Tarragon

Leaf description

- Aromatic leaves are substitute of French tarragon
- Soft oval gray-green leaves
- Licorice flavor with hints of anise
- Leaves are linear-to-oblong
- About 7.5cm long
- Used as culinary and medicinal herb

Plant description

- Hardy perennial
- Bushy with upright growing habit.
- Height: 50-60cm
- Long vegetative growing period
- Blooms late summer with apical clusters of golden flower
- Full light, warm weather plant
- 80-90 days from planting to harvest
- Ave. 1300 seeds/gr.
- M Seed Weight: 0.76gr.

Aeolic oil content processed from 100 gr. Fresh leaves (%)

Methyl chavicol	E-Anethole	E-β-Ocimene	Bicyclogermacrene	Myrcene	Germacrene D	E-Caryophyllene	Methyl eugenol	Linalool	l-Cadinol	α-Cadinol	E-Nerolidol	δ-Cadinene	Viridiflorol	γ-Cadinene	α-trans-Bergamotene	Z-β-Farnesene	Valencene	α-Humulene	Z-β-Ocimene	allo-Aromadendrene	Benzene acetaldehyde	γ-Murolene	Total
50.30	32.40	5.04	3.33	2.03	1.63	0.91	0.78	0.36	0.36	0.28	0.27	0.22	0.19	0.12	0.11	0.11	0.09	0.08	0.08	0.03	0.03	0.03	98.79

*Columns highlighted in green represent similar aeolic compounds in French Tarragon

*Pictures in the catalog illustrate the type of crop and not a particular variety. All information is subject to market demand and local conditions.

 – F-I Variety |  – Genesis Seeds Organic Breeding |  – Genesis Seeds Proprietary |  – HUJI Proprietary |  – ARO Proprietary |  – Heirloom